The organization is a registered charitable organization under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and is therefore exempt from income taxes.

The objectives of the organization are to promote the conservation and the use of heritage and unique plant varieties, including but not limited to, searching out, preserving, perpetuating, studying and encouraging the cultivation of heirloom and endangered varieties of food crops. 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of presentation

The financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations (ASNFPO). Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations are part of Canadian GAAP.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash includes the bank balance, cash on hand, and the cash balance of the investment account. There are no cash equivalents.

Inventory

Inventory consists of books for resale and is recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined by the first-in, first-out method. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated selling costs.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are expensed in the year of purchase. The property, plant and equipment currently held include equipment and computer hardware. There were no capital purchases this year.

Revenue recognition

The organization follows the deferral method of accounting for revenue.

Unrestricted grants and donations related to general operations are recognized as revenue of the General Fund in the year in which the related expenditures are incurred. Restricted contributions related to the HASP Fund and Seed Library Fund are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. This revenue includes grants, donations, seed library and BFICSS, and Healthy Kids.

Revenue from Seed library and BFICSS, sales of publications, conference and shows, investment income, government assistance, donations, unrealized gains and miscellaneous income are recognized when received. Miscellaneous income consists of advertising revenue, and credit card rebate.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Fund accounting

Seeds of Diversity Canada - Programme Semencier Du Patrimoine Canada follows the restricted fund method of accounting for contributions.

The General Fund accounts for the organization's program delivery and administrative activities. This fund reports unrestricted resources and restricted operating grants.

The Heather Apple Seed Preservation Fund (the "HASP Fund") is a fund established to hold and manage directed contributions from lifetime membership fees and donations, and to earn income for the organization's general operations. The lifetime membership fee provides full membership for life for a onetime payment of $1,000. The fund consists of the full value of the contributions, capital gains and/or losses on the investment, and 10% of the income generated by the investment of the contributions. The remaining 90% of investment income will be disbursed to the general fund, twice yearly.

The Seed Library Fund was established in 2009. The fund represents 80% of donations received for this project for the year, and is restricted to being invested perpetually to fund perpetual maintenance of seed collection. The remaining 20% of the donations to this project are used in the current year to fund the purchase of a variety of seeds to be stored in the seed collection library.

Contributed services

The operations of the organization depend on both the contribution of time by volunteers and donated materials from various sources. The fair value of donated materials and services cannot be reasonably determined and are therefore not reflected in these financial statements.

Financial instruments policy

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value when acquired or issued. In subsequent periods, financial assets with actively traded markets are reported at fair value, with any unrealized gains and losses reported in income. All other financial instruments are reported at amortized cost, and tested for impairment at each reporting date. Transaction costs on the acquisition, sale, or issue of financial instruments are expensed when incurred.

Corporate income taxes

The organization is a not-for-profit organization and is therefore exempt from corporate income taxes.

(d) Other price risk

Other price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from interest rate risk or currency risk), whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual financial instrument or its issuer, or factors affecting all similar financial instruments traded in the market.
